THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE
REGIONAL ADMINISTRATION AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT
LONGIDO DISTRICT

FORM ONE TERMINAL EXAMINATION
012 HISTORY
MARKING SCHEME MAY 2025

SECION A

1.

i	ii	iii	iv	v	vi	vii	viii	ix	x
C	D	B	C	B	B	B	C	C	C

1@total 10 marks

2.

i	ii	iii	iv	v
I	B	F	G	C

1@total 5 marks

SECTION B

3.

i	ii	iii	iv	v	vi	vii	viii	ix	x
T	T	F	T	T	T	F	F	T	F

(Any other relevant 2@ total 10)

4. Features of feudalism:

- Payment of rent to the land lords
- Exploitation of man by man example peasants (serf) were exploited by land lords
- Little freedom to peasant
- Private ownership of major means of production such as land
- Division labour Existence of classes

2@ total 10 marks

5. (i) Pottery

(ii) Advantages of pottery

- Enables communities to make containers for cooking food.
- Produced containers for storing water, milk, beer and grains.
- Pottery produce items or goods for trade for example Masai exchange cattle for pottery.

- Pottery containers were used for serving food and drinks at homes

2@total 10 marks

6.

(a)

i. Meroe in Sudan
ii. Axum in Ethiopia or Nok area in West Africa

(b)

i. Forest fire theory
ii. Mistaken identity theory

(c)

i. Zinjanthropus
ii. Homo habilis

(d)

i. Rubbing a stick in and wooden grove
ii. Striking stones against each other

(e)

i. Hunting
ii. Gathering

2@total 10

7. (a) A century – is the duration of one hundred years (100 yrs)

(b) A millennium – is the duration of thousand years (1000 yrs)

(c) A generation – is the average differences on ages between a child and his/her parent.

(d) Age – is the period based on ma's economic activities and type of tools used e.g. stone age, iron age, industrial age, science and technology age, etc.

(e) A period – is determined by one continuous event lasting for number of years. E.g. Period of slave trade in East Africa 2@total 10

8.

- It led to the production of more food in these societies.
- Agriculture forced people to settle down in one place.
- It encouraged social and political organizations.
- It led to the expansion of exchange trade due to surplus.
- It encouraged specialization of work in the society, for example people begun to practice medicine, priestly duties and different crafts.
- Some people became wealthier than others in the society due to the presence of more land and animals.

- Agriculture led to the introduction of science and technology. For example, in Egypt, there was need for irrigation

2@total 10

9. (i) It led to increase in food production. Man could now clear his areas for cultivation.

   (ii) Increase in population due to more food.

   (iii)There was emergence of specialization i.e. Iron workers (black smiths) and food producers.

   (iv) It led to the emergence of complex villages / development of political organization as kingdom and states.

   (v)Tools were highly improved and more efficient

   02@total 10

SECTION C

10. (i) Any relevant information concerning history (1.5 marks)

Main body (12 marks)

- To know the origin of man and his achievements and development up to the present time.
- To understand the relationship that existed between humans, and the environment
- To develop, understand and appreciation the need for African unity
- To acquire knowledge for its own sake as you enjoy a novel with fiction, a film with an interesting plot.
- To understand the level of development at different stages of human development.
- It helps us learn about technological transformations, for example primitive livelihood to advanced livelihood (using of stones and wood tools to iron tools)

Conclusion

Any relevant conclusion about subject matter (1.5 marks)