7. Hassan, a sole trader, extracted a trial balance from his ledger on 31st December 2015. The trial balance totals were TZS 23,884 (Dr) and TZS 49,984 (Cr). He placed the difference in a suspense account so that he could prepare a draft of an income statement for the year ended 31st December 2020 and a statement of financial position as of that date. The following errors were then discovered:
   (i) The total purchases day book had been undercast by TZS 10,000
   (ii) A cheque received from Maimuna TZS 3,900 had been debited in the cash book but the double entry had not been completed.
   (iii) TZS 7,600 for motor repairs had been taken to the motor van account.

(iv) The return outward book had been overcast by TZS 5,000.
(v) A sale of TZS 4,000 to Daima had been entered in the purchases book.
(vi) A purchase of office equipment from Mikocheni Traders for TZS 3,500 had been entered in the purchase's day book as TZS 5,300.
(vii) Goods returned by Nasra TZS 7,500 have been entered in the returns outward book, however, Nasra's account is correctly posted.

Required:
(a) Show journal entries to correct the above errors.
(b) Show the suspense account, off-setting the difference in the trial balance.
(c) Show a statement of corrected net profit for the year ended 31st December 2020 if the reported net profit before the above errors discovered was TZS 8,400.
